Lehrtätigkeit

td-net: Der One Health-Ansatz schlägt vor, die Erkenntnis der wechselseitigen Beziehung zwischen Ökosystem, Tier und Mensch in das professionelle Handeln einzubeziehen, um die Gesundheit umfassend und nachhaltig zu schützen. Die Universität Bern integriert die Methodenkompetenz des td-net in ihr neuestes Weiterbildungsangebot – Certificate of Advanced Studies in One Health (CAS One Health Unibe). Wir freuen uns auf die Herausforderung, unser Wissen in die intersektorale Zusammenarbeit einzubringen und in einem transdisziplinären Team zu unterrichten. Zur Ausschreibung

Call for Contributions: How to do Social Learning in a Digital World?

SNF Research Group: Social Ocean Energy: Mainstreaming sustainable ways of inhabiting this earth will require multiple economic and political transformations. It also requires new ways of knowledge production – and putting that knowledge to work. The concept of social learning points to a broad, collective learning process between communities, experts and governments. It represents a complex ambition and highly dynamic field. It is, after all, a reformulation of a very big question: how do people, how can societies change peacefully? How can we effectively pursue intentional change in a non-violent manner?

Deadline for Contribution–Description: 21 October 2024
