Alkhabeer Capital Unveils a Next-Generation Brokerage Platform

The platform offers investors exceptional trading speed, access to all Saudi stocks with an integrated "Tat'heer" Sharia purification service, instant fund transfers in Saudi Riyals, and a wide range of features purpose-built for active traders

Jeddah, Saudi Arabia – 28 December 2025 – Alkhabeer Capital, the financial institution specializing in financial services and brokerage services, announced the launch of its brokerage platform, providing investors across Saudi Arabia with seamless access to local, regional, and global markets. The launch marks a major milestone in Alkhabeer Capital's ongoing digital transformation and supports its long-term growth strategy.

The platform enables investors to trade across more than 34 local and global markets through a single, fully integrated account. It features high connectivity speeds and low latency through Wamid's co-location hosting service, the technology arm of the Saudi Tadawul Group. This contributes to faster trade execution, improved access to real-time market data, and consistently high execution quality in line with the rapid evolution of the Kingdom's trading environment.

The launch also builds on Alkhabeer Capital's recent digital initiatives, including its innovative Block Trade Negotiation System developed in partnership with AWRAAQ Digital for institutional block trades, as well as its strategic investment in the AI-powered robo-advisory firm Sindbad.Tech, which will support the future roll-out of next-generation digital investment solutions on the platform.

Ahmed Saud Ghouth, CEO of Alkhabeer Capital, stated: "The introduction of Alkhabeer Capital's Brokerage Platform represents an important step in enhancing how investors access and participate in capital markets in Saudi Arabia. We set out to deliver a trading experience that is fast and intuitive, while meeting the needs of today's highly informed and digitally savvy investors. By combining high connectivity speeds through our collaboration with Wamid, robust risk and governance frameworks, and a rich suite of financing and analytical tools, we are providing our clients with an institutional-grade platform at their fingertips."

Through the platform, clients can open and activate an account, making diversification across geographies and asset classes significantly more efficient. Investors can also trade all Saudi-listed equities with an integrated Shari'a purification service "Tat'heer" that facilitates monitoring and purifying income. They benefit from instant transfers of funds between markets in Saudi riyals, allowing them to respond quickly to opportunities in various markets.

In addition, the platform offers a range of Shari'a-compliant margin financing products that are available with instant approvals for eligible clients. The platform also equips investors with an integrated suite of advanced analytical and technical tools, including real-time charts, screening tools, customizable dashboards, and technical recommendations, enabling them to analyze markets, manage their portfolios more efficiently, and make decisions based on accurate data.

By broadening access to financial markets, enhancing trading efficiency, and expanding the range of products and tools available to investors, the launch of the Alkhabeer platform reinforces the Company's role in building an advanced financial ecosystem powered by cutting-edge technology.
