Valuation

4.1 Valuation Approaches

4.2 Valuation Analysis

4.2 Conclusion and Weighting Method

4.4 Opinion of Value

4.5 Validity of review and clarification

4.1 | Valuation Approaches

Principal valuation approaches and Residual Method
Market Approach	The market approach provides an indication of value by comparing the asset or liability, or both, with similar or matching assets or liabilities for which price information is available. The market approach should always consider the volume of transactions, their frequency, the range of observed prices, and the proximity to the valuation date. The market approach should be applied and given significant weight in the following cases: A) If the subject asset has recently been sold in a transaction suitable for the basis of value. B) If the subject asset or similar assets are frequently traded publicly. C) If there are notable, recent, or repeated transactions in comparable assets.
Income Approach	The income approach provides an indication of value by converting expected cash flows into a single present value. According to this approach, the value of the asset is based on the income or cash flows generated by the asset or the costs it saves. The income approach should be applied and given priority and significant weight in the following cases: A) When the asset's ability to generate income is the key factor affecting its value from the perspective of a market participant. B) When reasonable forecasts are available for the amount and timing of future revenues from the subject asset, but reliable and relevant market comparisons are not available.
Cost Approach	The cost approach provides an indication of value based on the economic principle that a buyer will not pay more for an asset than the cost of acquiring an asset of similar utility, either through purchase or construction, unless there are unjustifiable factors related to time, inconvenience, risk, or other related factors. This approach provides an indication of value by calculating the current cost to replace or reproduce the asset and applying discounts for all forms of depreciation. The cost approach should be applied and given significant weight in the following cases: A) When market participants are able to recreate the asset with the same characteristics as the subject asset, without regulatory or legal constraints, and the asset can be recreated in a timely manner so that participants do not need to pay a significant additional amount to use the subject asset immediately. B) When the asset does not directly generate income, and the unique nature of the asset prevents the effective use of the income and market approaches. C) When the basis of value used is based on the cost of replacement.
Residual Method	The residual method is named as such because it refers to the amount remaining after subtracting all known or expected costs required to complete the development from the expected value of the project upon completion, taking into account the risks associated with completing the project. The resulting value is referred to as the residual value.

Replacement Cost Method is categorized under Cost Approach in the International Valuation Standards 2025 and is defined as "replacement cost is the cost that is relevant to determining the price that a participant would pay as it is based on replicating the utility of the asset, not the exact physical properties of the asset".

4.2.1.1 Cost of land (Market Approach -Comparison Method)

The International Valuation Standards (IVS) 2025 classify the Comparative Transactions Method under the Market Approach and define it as follows: "The Comparative Transactions Method, also known as the Guideline Transactions Method, uses information on transactions involving assets that are identical or similar to the asset being valued to arrive at an indication of value.

The built-up areas were estimated based on the actual condition observed during the site inspection and satellite imagery via Google Earth. 4.2 | Valuation Analysis

4.2.2 Income Approach- Discounted Cash Flow Method

According to the International Valuation Standards "2025", in the discounted cash flow method, the expected cash flows are discounted to the date of valuation, which results in a present value of the asset.... In some cases, discounted cash flows can include a final value that represents the value of the asset. The asset at the end of the explicit forecast period." Given the expected change in the income of the subject property and its failure to reach full maturity at current revenue levels, the cash flow method was chosen to value the property using the income method and the explicit forecast period was determined in accordance with these inputs.

The explicit forecast period was determined based on the following principles and criteria:

- Future financial projections of the property: Including expected revenues and growth rates, using realistic data grounded in market analysis.
- Consideration of property maturity phases: Evaluating the time required to achieve revenue stabilization, based on market dynamics and the property's specific operational conditions.
- Comprehensive risk analysis: Covering market risks, operational risks, and assumptions related to occupancy and income levels.
- Market and economic indicators: Including demand and supply conditions in the sector, as well as broader economic trends impacting the market.

The analysis was conducted using a forward-looking approach that reflects the property's projected future cash flows. These cash flows were discounted using an appropriate discount rate that accounts for the risks associated with the property and overall market conditions. This approach provides an accurate representation of the property's current market value in accordance with international best practices.

- The net cash flows were discounted at a rate of 10% to reflect the risks associated with the property

4.3 Conclusion and Weighting Method

Since different values of the property have been reached through several methods, and in order to determine the final value of the property, the weighting of the methods used in the valuation to reach the final valuation will be calculated according to the following:

Weighing used valuation methods
Valuation method	Value	Weight &	Weight value
Depreciation cost	76,854,600 SAR	0%	0 SAR
Discounted cash flow	83,145,710.44 SAR	100%	83,145,710.44 SAR
Total		100%	83,145,710.44 SAR

The income approach (discounted cash flow method) was favored over the cost approach, as the property is used as an investment asset to generate income for the fund. Therefore, it was valued based on the income it produces.

- It is explicitly assumed in this report that no hazardous substances, environmental risks, or harmful factors exist on or around the subject property that may affect its value. Should such conditions be identified, this valuation shall be rendered null and void, and a separate, specialized assessment by qualified professionals — wholly outside the scope of this valuation — shall be required.
- This valuation is predicated on the assumption that the subject property is entirely free from contamination, toxic materials, or environmental hazards of any kind. The valuer assumes no responsibility for the validity of these documents.
- In the event that the client provides the valuer with any maps, plans, or property specifications, the valuer's inspection shall be limited strictly to what is externally visible and apparent. Such a review must not, under any circumstances, be construed as a substitute for professional structural, engineering, or environmental valuations.

- The valuer bears no liability for any claims, losses, or damages resulting from the use of the valuation report's findings, analyses, or conclusions, except as expressly stipulated in the terms of engagement agreed upon with the client.

5.3 Valuation Standards

5.3 Valuation Review Criteria

All work is performed in accordance with the Accredited Valuers System, the Executive Regulations pertaining to Real Estate Valuation issued by the Saudi Authority for Accredited Valuers (Taqeem), and the latest version of the International Valuation Standards (IVS 2025) as published by the International Valuation Standards Council (IVSC). Valuers are bound by their requirements, and the valuations may be subject to monitoring by these bodies.

5.3.1 Special Assumptions

This report, in specific instances, incorporates certain 'assumptions' or 'special assumptions' for valuation purposes. All such assumptions are governed by the International Valuation Standards 2025 and are generally classified into two main categories as outlined below:

- These refer to facts that are, or could reasonably be, consistent with the circumstances prevailing at the valuation date, arising from limitations placed on the scope of the valuer's research or due diligence process.
- Assumed facts that diverge from those prevailing as of the valuation date are referred to as 'special assumptions'. Such assumptions are typically employed to demonstrate the effect of hypothetical scenarios or changes on the value of an asset. They are described as 'special' because they inform the user of the valuation that the assessment is based on altered conditions or on perspectives that are not ordinarily held by market participants as of the valuation date."
- All significant special assumptions must be reasonable in light of the prevailing circumstances, substantiated by appropriate evidence, and suitable for the intended purpose of the valuation so as to ensure compliance with applicable valuation standards.

5.3.2 Sale Costs, Taxes, and Other Liabilities

- This valuation excludes any consideration of costs, taxes, or expenses that may be incurred upon the sale or disposal of the property. It is further assumed that there are no encumbrances, such as loans or mortgages, that would restrict the free and unencumbered disposition of the property, unless expressly noted otherwise in this report.

5.3.3 Sources of Information

- The documents provided by the owner, and appended to this report, are assumed to be authentic, accurate, and valid for use as of the valuation date. These documents include, but are not necessarily limited to, the following:
 - Property Title Deed (if available)
 - Building Permit if (available)
 - Lease Agreements (if available)

5.3.4 Environmental Pollution

This valuation does not include any environmental assessment to determine the presence or absence of contamination on the subject property's land. It is therefore expressly assumed that the land is free from environmental pollutants, unless stated otherwise in this report. If any such contamination comes to the valuer's attention, the client will be duly informed.

5.3.5 Outstanding Liabilities

The valuation excludes any obligations that were applicable to the property during its construction phase and are considered to have lapsed upon completion of the construction, regardless of whether their closure has been formally documented. This includes any liabilities relating to contractors, subcontractors, and all parties involved in the design and execution teams.

5.3.6 Confidentiality of Information and Liability Toward Third Parties

- This valuation report is strictly confidential and intended exclusively for the designated recipient and solely for the specified purpose. The valuer shall not bear any responsibility or liability whatsoever toward any third party.
- Under no circumstances may this report (whether in whole or in part) nor any reference to it or any of the information it contains, be published, disclosed, or communicated to any third party without the valuer's prior written consent regarding both the form and content in which it will appear.

5.3.7 Maps and Illustrative Drawings

All maps, diagrams, and illustrative content contained in this report are intended solely for visualization purposes. Although believed to be accurate, no guarantees are made regarding their correctness, and they shall not be relied upon for any contractual, legal, or decision-making purposes.

5.3 | Valuation Standards

5.3.8 Compliance with the Real Estate Investment Funds Regulations (REIT)

Based on the scope specified in the assignment, this report has been prepared in accordance with the Real Estate Investment Funds Regulations issued by the Capital Market Authority.

This report was prepared by Esnad Real Estate Company, an independent valuation company licensed by the Saudi Authority for Accredited Valuers (Taqeem), according to the following conditions and assumptions:

- The Accredited Valuer must be independent of any related parties.
- The Accredited Valuer must hold a Fellowship of the Saudi Authority for Accredited Valuers (Taqeem).

The Accredited Valuer's report must include, at a minimum, the following:

- The valuation approach, method, and the assumptions upon which it was based.
- An analysis of variables relevant to the real estate market, such as supply, demand, and market trends.
- Details and descriptions of the property.
- The risks related to the property subject to valuation.

5.3.9 The Nature and Scope of the Valuer's Work and Any Imposed Restrictions

"In accordance with International Valuation Standard (IVS) 101 – Scope of Work – from the International Valuation Standards 2025, specifically paragraph (1-20-i) related to the nature and scope of the valuer's work and any restrictions imposed on it, which states that any limitations that impair inspection, inquiry, or analysis related to the valuation must be identified. If relevant information is not available due to restrictions placed on investigation and inquiry within the valuation terms, these limitations must be identified, along with any necessary or special assumptions (see IVS 102 – Bases of Value, paragraphs (1-50) to (4-50)) arising from such restrictions."

It is noted that these aspects, if present, will be addressed in their designated sections within this report.

5.3.10 Material Environmental, Social, and Governance (ESG) Factors

In accordance with International Valuation Standard 104 – Data and Inputs (IVS 2025), which states that the impact of material environmental, social, and governance (ESG) factors should be considered, the potential influence of such factors on the subject property has been reviewed. Any identified or observed tangible impacts resulting from these factors have been analyzed. Accordingly, any such impacts, if applicable, will be detailed in the section titled Property Data and Ownership Information.

5.3.11 Specialist

This report has been prepared with the support of an internal team of specialists possessing the technical skills and subject-matter expertise necessary to perform, support, review, or challenge valuation activities. In the event that any external specialists are engaged, such disclosure will be made in the section titled Valuation Team. This approach is in accordance with International Valuation Standard 100 – Valuation Framework (IVS 2025).

5.3.12 Statement of Compliance with Standards

Esnad hereby affirms that this report has been prepared in full compliance with the International Valuation Standards 2025, effective as of 31 January 2025. All professional requirements and technical guidelines outlined in these updated standards have been duly followed to ensure the delivery of an accurate, objective valuation that reflects the true value of the assets appraised. Any additional valuation standards adopted or applied alongside the International Valuation Standards will be clearly referenced in the report to ensure consistency with the latest professional guidance and applicable frameworks.

5.3 | Valuation Standards

5.3.13 Nature and Source of Information Relied Upon by the Valuer

The scope of work included the review and analysis of all relevant information, as well as the necessary verification procedures to assess its accuracy and consistency with actual market conditions. The authenticity of documents referenced in the report was verified using official government platforms, such as the Real Estate Exchange Platform, the Real Estate Registry, and Balady Platform, based on availability and the type of documents submitted by the client, unless otherwise stated.

Information was collected from multiple sources, including client-provided data, market evidence, previous records available to the valuer, and external sources such as licensed brokers and real estate platforms, all as referenced within the report.

Analytical procedures were performed on the data, including price and cost comparisons (if applicable), determination of appropriate discount and capitalization rates (where applicable), and verification of data used in the comparable sales grid and adjustment tables. Other valuation methods—such as the income approach and residual value method—were applied when appropriate, with suitable adjustments made. Contract documents were also examined and compared to prevailing market prices as of the valuation date, if such contracts were provided.

Market-related information was compiled by the valuation team and included the current market conditions, sale or lease prices for each property component, discount and capitalization rates, occupancy, operational costs, and anticipated development returns. All valuation estimates and conclusions in this report were based on market data and comparisons available as of the valuation date.

Some information was also gathered through the valuer's professional network, including brokers, developers, investors, and governmental bodies.

5.3.14 Intended Use

This report has been prepared in accordance with the valuation service agreement and the agreed work plan. It is intended for use exclusively by the client for the purpose stated in the executive summary of the report.

5.6 | Risks Study and Analysis

Type of Risk	Qualitative Analysis	Quantitative Analysis	Effect on Value
Tenant classification risk	Assessing the variety of tenants, their activities, industries, and financial stability.	Concentration of income from a limited number of main tenants(%100) and estimating its impact on income.	Dependence on a limited number of tenants increases risks and reduces value.
Credit and tenant risk	Assessing the quality of tenants in terms of creditworthiness, payment ability, and overall financial performance.	Calculating the expected default rate, rent collection rate, and discount rate adjustment to compensate for risks.	Increased risks reduce expected income and raise the discount rate, thereby lowering value.
Management and Operational Risk	Assessing the efficiency of the property management system, leasing policy, maintenance, and financial reporting.	Raising operating expenses as a percentage of income due(%10) to weak management efficiency.	Weak management leads to lower net income and higher risks, thus reducing value.
Highest and Best Use (HBU) Risk	Site Analysis and Surrounding Environment to determine the optimal use of the subject property	Comparing current use with potential uses to determine the highest and best use and increase income.	Failure to use the property optimally leads to a lower valuation compared to available alternatives.
Market and Economic Change Risk	Analyzing market indicators, supply and demand, and economic trends.	Analyzing rent and return indicators and their relationship to interest rate and inflation trends.	Market fluctuations lead to changes in expected returns and valuation.
Planning and Zoning Risk	Review of municipal and regulatory requirements and their compliance with current or intended use.	Estimation of the impact of planning restrictions or reduced buildable area on income.	Regulatory constraints may limit development potential and reduce value.
Physical Deterioration and Maintenance Risk	Inspection of building condition, materials used, and estimated remaining useful life.	Estimation of depreciation or obsolescence percentage and required renewal cost.	Deterioration and lack of maintenance lead to value reduction due to physical and market depreciation.
