Robotics That Makes the Grade

How “Martti” Became a Valued Member of the Team

Over 1,100 children, a 1,200-square-metre sports hall and high standards of cleanliness and safety: day-to-day cleaning at Linnakangas School in Finland is a demanding task.

The cleaning team is supported by Robomatic Marvin. Known as “Martti”, the robot has long since become a popular member of the team. The children also enjoy watching him make his rounds autonomously. But the cleaning robot does more than attract attention. It eases the team’s workload and frees up time for other tasks.

Discover how people and machines work together and how this has changed everyday life at the school in the full customer story.

Clean After the Final Whistle

Tackling Stubborn Adhesive Residues

Where handball is played, it leaves its mark. Hundreds of people train every day in the Kreuzbleiche sports halls in St. Gallen. The grip resin used by players leaves stubborn residues on floors, court markings and glass surfaces.

With Reshine Sport, the cleaning team has found a solution that reliably removes sticky residues. But it is not just the cleaning performance that impresses. Hall users also appreciate the fresh fragrance.

Read the full customer story to discover how the nine-person team cleans these heavily used sports halls and why Reshine Sport has proven itself in daily use.
